

I have known Randy for several years; first as a pastor of my church and then as a friend. And I can confidently say that Randy is a man of drive and passion.

Randy has a drive in him to help others and to stand up for what is right in this world. He pushes for his beliefs and goals. He drives them through to the point that they can stand on their own. He has passion. If Randy sets out to do something then you can rest assured that it will be done. He keeps his eyes open to how he can help others even when they may not be asking specifically for it. And Randy always has time for people; he always has time to speak to me, whether it is about God or about life in general.

In all things though, I know that I can count on him. I know that what Randy stands for is what I stand for. And I know that Randy is unmovable in his beliefs. When so many people refuse to truly stand for anything, it is refreshing to see a man who will stand for what is right, even if what is right is not easy.

Listen, O heavens, and I will speak; hear, O earth, the words of my mouth. Let my teaching fall like rain and my words descend like dew, like showers on new grass, like abundant rain on tender plants. I will proclaim the name of the LORD. Oh, praise the greatness of our God! He is the Rock, his works are perfect, and all his ways are just. A faithful God who does no wrong, upright and just is he. (Deuteronomy 32: 1-4)
